Strategem took an intimidating process and made it simple. We were doing our first mass mailing in years. We had no idea how it worked with Canada Post. All we had to do was provide Strategem with an excel mailing list and they took complete charge of the project including stuffing and mailing the envelopes. The savings on postage alone more than paid for Strategem and that doesn't even factor in the manpower that it would have taken to print and stuff the envelopes.

Sincerely,
